

On October 10th Paint a School Pink
With the
UFT & American Cancer Society

Pink is the international color for Breast Cancer Awareness and Research. This October 10th, recognize Breast Cancer Awareness Month by painting your school pink.

Here are some fun ideas:

Ideas for School Administration:

- >>Write class notes with pink chalk
- >>Have pink themed bulletin boards in the hallway.
- >>Purchase pink wristbands and give them out to students.
- >>Make Strides Day Event with pink themed activities (i.e. pink jump ropes, hula-hoops, and balls)
- >>Include Making Strides against Breast Cancer walk as part of your school's community service program.
- >>Place information about Strides on your school's Website.
- >>Include information about Strides in your school news bulletin.
- >>Choose one day out the week to feature a pink item in the cafeteria (i.e. strawberry milk)

Ideas for Students:

- >>Wear pink clothing/pajamas.
- >>Create pink window decorations and display them in your school windows.
- >>Write your school notes in pink ink.
- >>Display Making Strides posters in your school.
- >>Decorate your school hallways with pink balloons.
- >>Decorate your schoolyard with pink chalk artwork.
- >>Hold a contest for the Funkiest Pink Dresser.
- >>Get your school principal to turn pink for the day!
